W: Charlie, where did you get these apples? They look so fresh!
M: My grandpa sent them from his farm. He sent me quite a lot.
W: Wow, I envy you. They look so delicious. Can I have one?
M:

M: Excuse me. I see the 2 o’clock flight to Dallas is delayed. Do you know why?
W: Yes. It’s due to bad weather. We’ll update the flight information soon, but the plane should take off within two hours.
M: Are you sure? I have a meeting in Dallas I cannot miss.

W: Hello, listeners! This is One Minute Health. Nowadays more and more office workers have been reporting troubles caused by long hours spent in front of the monitor. The biggest problems are damage to the eyes and stress on the neck and back. Improper posture is the main cause. Here are some useful tips for keeping proper posture while you use your computer. First, make sure to sit 50 to 70 centimeters away from the monitor. Sitting too close to your monitor can hurt your eyes. Second, to lessen the stress on your neck, you need to sit directly in front of your monitor, not to the left or to the right. Lastly, try to keep your knees at a right angle to reduce the pressure on your back. Remember that proper posture is the first step to healthy computer use. This has been Brenda Smith at One Minute Health.
M: Ms. Robinson, what was your opinion of Mr. Brown’s open class today?
W: It looked interesting.
M: Yes, it did. I was impressed by how active it was.
W: But honestly, the class seemed a bit noisy to me.
M: Yeah, I know. But that’s because today’s class was based on games.
W: Don’t you think games can be a waste of class time?
M: Well, actually I think that games can help students.
W: I know students love games, but how do they help?
M: Games make students want to participate more actively in class.
W: Do you really think so?
M: Yeah. Today I saw all of the students laughing and enjoying themselves during the class. I think the games motivated everyone to learn.
W: That makes sense. I even saw shy students asking questions.
M: Right. If students enjoy themselves in class, it’ll certainly help their learning.
W: How was everything, Mr. Silverman?
M: Good. Dr. Marshall did a good job. I don’t feel any more pain.
W: Glad to hear that. Did Dr. Marshall say he wants to see you again?
M: Yeah. I was told that I have to come and have my tooth checked again sometime next week.
W: Okay. When are you available?
M: I’m free on Wednesday.
W: Let me check his schedule. [Pause] He has dental surgery scheduled in the morning. But he’s free from 2 to 4 o’clock.
M: Okay, 3 o’clock works for me.
W: All right. Wednesday at 3 o’clock. As usual, you have to arrive 10 minutes before the appointment.
M: No problem. Is there anything I have to be careful of?
W: Here. Please read this after-treatment information sheet. If your tooth starts to hurt, just call and I’ll set up an earlier appointment for you.
M: Okay. Thanks. Can I pay by credit card?
W: Absolutely.
M: What are you looking at, honey?
W: My friend Lisa sent me a picture of the park we’re visiting this weekend.
M: Oh, did she? Let me see.
W: She said her family had a really good time there.
M: Oh! There are two trees near the fence. That’s very nice.
W: Yeah, it is. And I like the bench between the trees.
M: Me, too. We can rest in the shade there.
W: And look at the pond with the fish. It looks peaceful.
M: It does. I like the bear statue in the middle of the picture.
W: Yeah, it’s cute. I think the kids will like it, too. We can take photos in front of it.
M: They’ll also have a lot of fun with the swing at the right side of the picture.
W: Definitely. They’ll really enjoy it.
M: The park will be perfect for our family.
W: Brian, have you thought about a topic for our social studies group work?
M: Oh, no! I completely forgot! I’m so sorry. I’ve been really busy with my science assignment.
W: That’s okay. But we have to present in class next Friday.
M: I know. Do you have a good idea for our topic?
W: How about global warming? It’s a serious issue.
M: I think it’s too common, though. Hmm... What about cell phone addiction?
    That’d be interesting for our classmates.
W: Sure. Let’s do it.
M: All right. How should we gather information?
W: I think we should do online research and interview our classmates.
M: You’re right. Then I’ll check the Internet. You know I’m good at finding information online.
W: Good. While you’re doing that, I’ll meet with our classmates and get the interviews done.
M: Awesome. Let me know if you need any help.
W: Okay.
M: Whew! What a long day!
W: Yeah. It has been, Paul. But I’m glad everyone loved our team project. You did a nice job.
M: You, too, Jenny. Your part was great.
W: Thanks. I’m glad we’re all done. Don’t forget the team dinner at 7 o’clock.
M: Oh, I’m sorry, but I can’t go.
W: That’s a shame. Why not?
M: I need to go home early to see my father.
W: Oh, really? Is his back bothering him again?
M: No. He’s been feeling much better since he came back from the hospital.
W: That’s good. Is today a special day then? His birthday?
M: No. Actually, my mother went on a business trip to Canada this week. So I’m going to have dinner with him while she’s gone.
W: That’s thoughtful of you, Paul. I hope you have a nice dinner with him.
M: Thanks, Jenny. I’ll join the next team dinner.
W: Hi, Mr. Gold. You look busy today.
M: Yeah. It’s one of those days. How can I help you?
W: I want to have these coats dry-cleaned and my skirt shortened by two inches.
W: I’ve got three coats. And how much is it to shorten a skirt?
M: It costs $5. How many do you have?
W: Just one. Oh, I also have to pick up my son’s soccer shoes I dropped off last week.
M: Yes, I remember. One pair of shoes, right?
W: Yeah. I think I still need to pay for the shoes. I forgot to bring my wallet last time.
M: Yes, it’s $5.
W: I see. I’ll pay for everything now. Can I use this coupon?
M: Sure. That’ll give you 10% off the total price including the shoes.
W: Thank you. Here’s my credit card.

M: Good afternoon, this is Brad Parker at the Edison Times.
W: Hi, Mr. Parker. I'm calling with some questions about the Young Inventors Challenge.
M: Oh, sure. What questions do you have?
W: First, I'd like to know if I can participate. I just turned 18.
M: Well, the contest is open to anyone age 13 through 19. So, yes. You can enter.
W: Good. Then can you tell me when the deadline for application is?
M: It's Tuesday, November 24th.
W: Okay. And the contest takes place at the Prestige Convention Center, right?
M: That's correct.
W: One last thing then. I heard that the prize for the winner is a trip to Boston. Does that include the hotel?
M: That's right. It includes the hotel and airfare for the winner and the winner's family.
W: Excellent. Thanks for your help, Mr. Parker. Have a good day.
M: My pleasure. Best of luck to you!

M: Hello, Paradise Rental Agency.
W: Hello. I’m calling about renting an apartment in Westford Village. Do you have any available?
M: Yes, we have five options. How many bedrooms would you like? We have apartments with one, two, or three.
W: I want it to have at least two bedrooms. I have a son in elementary school.
M: Where’s the school located?
W: It’s downtown. The apartment should be less than 20 minutes’ walking distance from downtown.
M: All right. So we have three apartments that fit your needs. Do you have any specific floor in mind?
W: Well, I don’t really like high floors. I’d like it not higher than the 5th floor.
M: Then, you still have two apartments to choose from. One of them is $50 more expensive in monthly rental cost.
W: Let me choose the cheaper one. Can I come over tomorrow afternoon and have a look at the apartment?
M: Sure. Can I have your name, please?
W: Betty Jackson.
M: Okay, Ms. Jackson. I’ll see you at our office tomorrow.
W: Hi, Mr. Willis.
M: Hi, Sally. Are you working late again?
W: Yeah. I’m putting the final touches on the business proposal we talked about. How was the directors’ meeting?
M: It was fruitful. Sally, I have something important to tell you.
W: Really? What is it?
M: The directors want you to present your business proposal at the meeting next week.
W: Really? I didn’t know they were interested in my proposal.
M: Yes, they are. They think your proposal has great potential. And so do I.
W: Thank you, but I’ve never made a presentation for such an important group of people.
M: Don’t worry. You still have time to prepare for it. And it’s a good opportunity for your hard work and great ideas to be recognized.
W: I guess you’re right. I’ll start making some slides for the proposal right away. I hope I won’t disappoint the directors.

15. 다음 상황 설명을 듣고, David가 Jane에게 할 말로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Jane is a student running for student council president. David is one of Jane’s friends, and he is serving as her campaign manager. They mostly agree with each other, but when they don’t, they try to ease the tension by discussing their ideas. Jane has been writing a campaign speech for some time, and it’s nearly completed. She likes what she has written and is quite proud of it. Before finishing it, Jane shows it to David so she can get his opinion. David thinks it’s well written, but feels that it’s a bit too strong and direct. He’s afraid the speech might hurt someone’s feelings. David wants to tell Jane that she should change some of the direct and strong language to tone down the speech. In this situation, what would David most likely say to Jane?

M: Hi, class! Insects are very small creatures which are often eaten in the wild. They’ve developed various ways of defending themselves to avoid this fate. Today we’ll learn about some of these like hiding, changing appearances, and using weapons. First, certain insects are adapted for hiding. For example, the small bodies of some ants enable them to quickly disappear by running into even the smallest holes. Second and most interestingly, there are insects that can avoid being eaten by changing their appearances to look like something in their environment. Some butterflies fold their wings to look like the dead leaves they rest on so that they cannot be distinguished from their surroundings. Third, many insects are equipped with weapons that discourage enemies from attacking them. Some grasshoppers spray out a dark brown liquid known as “tobacco juice.” It’s so bitter that predators avoid eating them. Furthermore, most bees sting when they feel threatened. Some of them are only able to sting once, while others can use their weapons multiple times. There must be other insects you know about. Think about ways they survive in the wild.
